

OUFC Annual General Meeting

On December 4, 2003, the OUFC held its annual general meeting. Highlights included a report on the year's activities, adoption of a revised constitution and the voting in of directors for 2004. Dr. Andy Kenney, who resigned as a director, was presented with a plaque in honour of his many years of dedication and service to the OUFC.

The workshop held at the AGM was entitled "Canada's Urban Forests in Crisis?". The evening was moderated by Andy Kenney, and speakers included Jon Hall of the Canadian Food Inspection Agency, Richard Ubbens of the City of Toronto, and Joe McCarthy, City Forester from Chicago. Approximately 100 people attended.
